The Adventure Begins

With wondering eyes,
Inquisitive minds,
Fanciful hearts
And fresh, youthful enthusiasm;
With these, youth enters the doors
Of The Great Adventure

Representing those thousands of freshmen who have entered, and who have yet to enter, the portals of The Adventure, are Marjorie Blumenthal and Edward Watterson.

The Adventure Builds Leaders

As presidents of the two major organizations in the school, Anita Widell and Richard Kiffer represent the entire student body. Anita was not only Girls' League president at CHS, but was also head of the Southwest Washington Girls' League. Richard, president of the Boys' Club and prominent in all major sports, was not only captain of the basketball team but won the coveted Inspirational Award in that sport.

"Clear the way, open the door, here comes the Class of '54!" Some one hundred and eighty freshmen made known their presence in the halls of CHS by contributing to the activities of student life. They started the year with a successful Frosh Party in November, after which they sponsored dances on January 12 and April 10.

Home economics forms one of the basic studies for the girls and prepares them for a future as homemakers. Here a class of freshmen does some textbook work in their well-equipped foods laboratory. These girls put their knowledge to practical use by preparing a luncheon to which each girl invites a guest.

The Sophomore class began the year with a gala occasion when they put on their annual carnival on November 17. For the first time in the history of this affair, the Class of '53 invited the members of the Class of '54 to be their guests. Upperclassmen are excluded from this strictly underclassmen fun-fest. The class also produced, under the direction of Masque & Gavel, a one-act play, "Rumors Wanted".

At last the students of the Class of '52 have become upperclassmen. They dreamily glide around at their first main activity, the Junior Prom, as the theme, "Lost in a Dream", comes to life. Excitement runs high as the cast is chosen for "Growing Pains", their class production. The final activity of the year is the serving of the departing seniors, the juniors decorating and ushering for the baccalaureate service and ushering at the graduation ceremonies.

Make-Up Application. Peggy Taylor and Phyllis Hendrickson make up Joe Riley, a member of this year's cast of "Mother Is a Freshman".

Senior Play Is

Senior class advisors get together to discuss the many problems that confront the Seniors in their march toward graduation. Seated is Mr. Jack Frame and looking on are Mr. Leo Milanowski, Miss Margaret Muir and Miss Mildred Walker.

"The Great Adventure" is drawing to a close as 124 Seniors look forward to the Baccalaureate and Commencement Services which officially mark the end of their high school work. Looking back over the year many highlights are brought to mind. The sparkle and glitter of the Senior Ball; worth of the lumber industry as seen on the Weyerhauser trip May 17; the Junior College and the Girls' League teas for the Senior girls, and the Inspirational Award given to the outstanding Senior girl.

Remembered Production

Social Life Develops Poise Self-Confidence

Preparation for the important social side of adult life is gained through participation in activities that teach the individual cooperation while contributing his share to the group effort. Purely social activities help develop poise and self-control, so necessary to a happy adult life.

Pictured to the right are Donna Rae Miller, senior, and Frank Brown, Junior, who reigned as the King and Queen of Hearts for 1951.

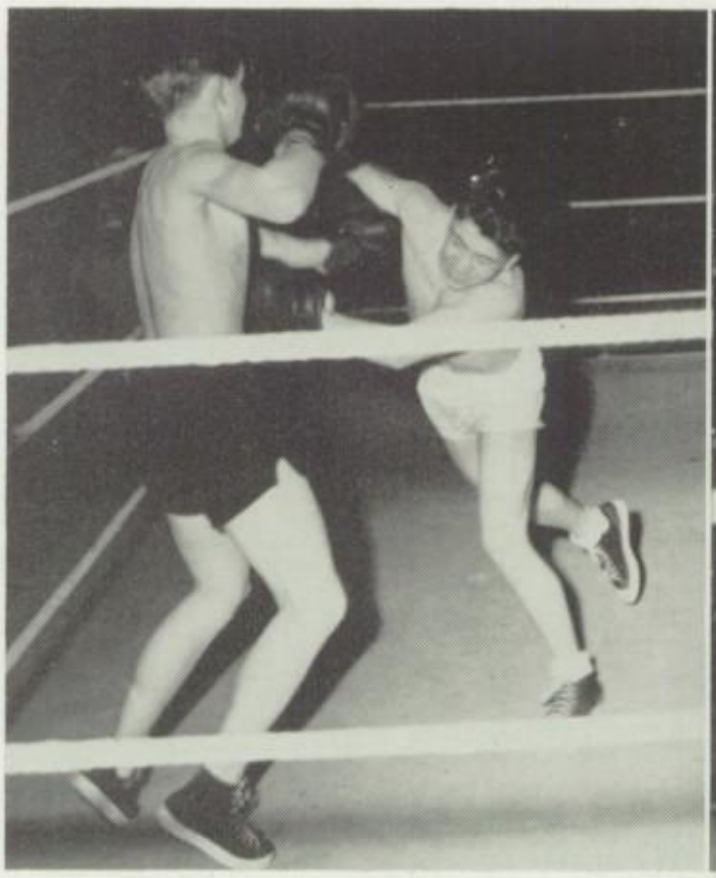
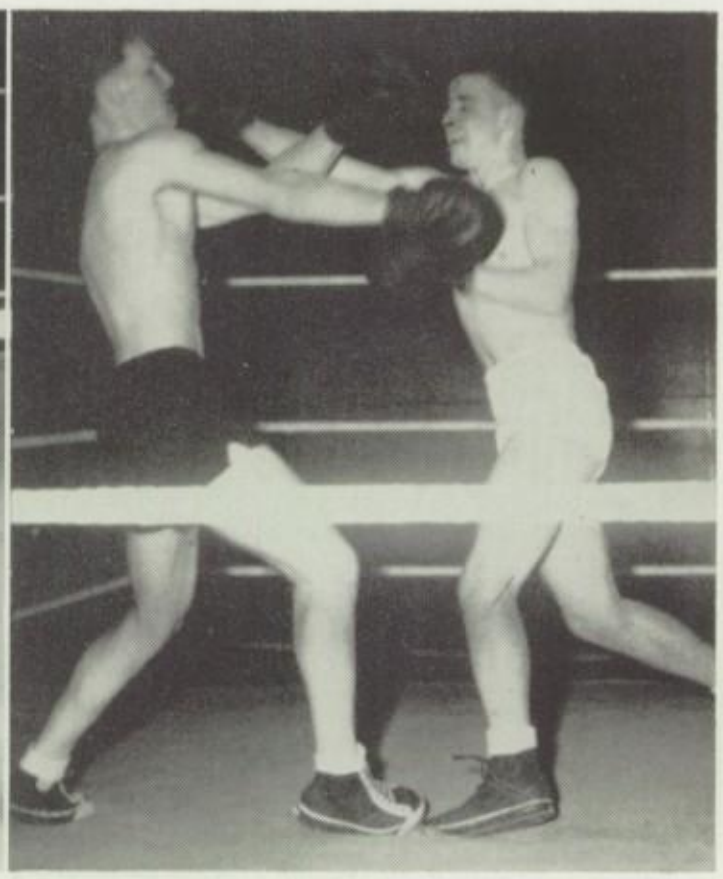
Even the important business of student government has its lighter side as the efficient yell and song staff "did their stuff". The six members of this group gave everything they could muster in promoting enthusiasm for all student body activities, whether of an athletic nature or not. Nor did the weather dampen their spirits, although it certainly did their clothes, as they stood in the rain during football games to rally the student audiences into "one more big one" for the team.





Boys' Club Smoker. One of the major activities of the Boys' Club was the sponsoring of a smoker on January 18. Shown above are pictures of two of the bouts. To the left Jesse West and Jim Martinovich slug it out, while to the right Gregory Dunham tries to land a punch on John Daniels who not only wards him off but lands one of his own.

Boys' Club. Boys' Club is the organization to which all boys in CHS belong. Their biggest social event is one of long standing, the annual Turkey Shoot. Highlight of the November affair this year was the winning of the big turkey by Erwin Ely who had sold the bird to the club in the first place. A highly successful smoker was also put on by the boys on January 18.

Girls' League. The noon candy concession and the sale of popcorn, candy and coke at the various games brought in the necessary funds for the girls to begin the task of refurnishing the Girls' League room this year. Another year 'round activity of the group is the selection of a Girl of the Month, each one of whom typifies a line of the Creed. Thanksgiving, Christmas and Easter see League representatives bringing good cheer and handmade favors to the old folks' homes. Mothers of the girls are honored at the annual All Mothers Tea and the Senior Girls Tea.

This year's 1951 Skookum Wa Wa drive got off to a flying start October 18 with 461 annuals sold the first ten days. This year's theme, "The Great Adventure", displays the journey of Tigerites from the time they enter as freshmen until they graduate as seniors. The staff has tried to give a well-rounded picture of both social and academic activities of the student body.

The Columns appeared in a new size this year, growing from tabloid to a full-size, seven column newspaper. A new policy of rotating editorships was also used in order to allow more students to get experience in those positions. There were three different editors-in-chief during the year: Bart Bloom, Helen Swearingen and Janet Hillyer, in that order.

Conduct Magazine

Highlight of the 1951 school year for the music department was the entertaining of nearly two thousand musicians at the Northern Division of the Southwest Washington Music Meet, April 14. To make the day really complete the Tiger musicians received the highest rating given, that of superior, for all three of their entries, band, chorus and Freshman Girls' Ensemble. Another major activity of the year was the handling of the magazine drive in the fall when the clever slogan, "Magazines for Music", was the rallying cry to raise money for badly-needed new choir robes.

Drive for New Robes

"Growing Pains", Juniors:

Everything from aching joints to aching hearts, especially the latter, appeared in the Junior class play, "Growing Pains". The elderly Latin professor, at times deaf, really had to race to keep up with his young-hearted son and daughter. He and his motherly wife experience many "things" while the children are experiencing "heart-rending things".

"Mother Is a Freshman", Seniors

"Mother Is a Freshman". Two scenes from the Senior class production. To the left the girls are very depressed when they find how the boys take the arrival of Abigail. Left to right; Mary Jane Harmon (Margie); Hazel Harris (Mrs. Miller); Rae Herrick (Sylvia), and Sue Du Val (Clara). Taking an interest in the proceedings also is Lee Butkus (Professor Michaels). Picture to the right shows the boys meeting Abby (Joan Hayes). Left to right, Wallace Jamieson (Jack); Gordon Sexton (Bill); Bart Bloom (Bobo), and Mathew Rinaldi (Howie), all making valiant efforts to take Abigal Fortitude Abbot to the big dance. PLAY CAST. Below, the cast of the play takes time out during a rehearsal. Left to right, row 1—Margie Doney, Sue Du Val, Deloris DeRosia , Edwina Miller, Bart Bloom, Lee Butkus. Around the piano, clockwise, Rae Herrick, Hazel Harris, Mary Jane Harmon, Wallace Jamieson, Anita Widell, Gordon Sexton, Mathew Rinaldi, Marvin Prill, Joan Hayes.

One of the many tributaries in our river of adventure is that of dramatics. The Senior class pushed full speed ahead with "Mother Is a Freshman", a comedy in three acts. The story concerns a middle-aged woman, Abigail Fortitude, who, in order to send her daughter to college, had to rely on the Abigail Fortitude Memorial Scholarship and attend college herself. Her adventures kept the audiences in a state of suspense and mounting hysteria as the play progressed.

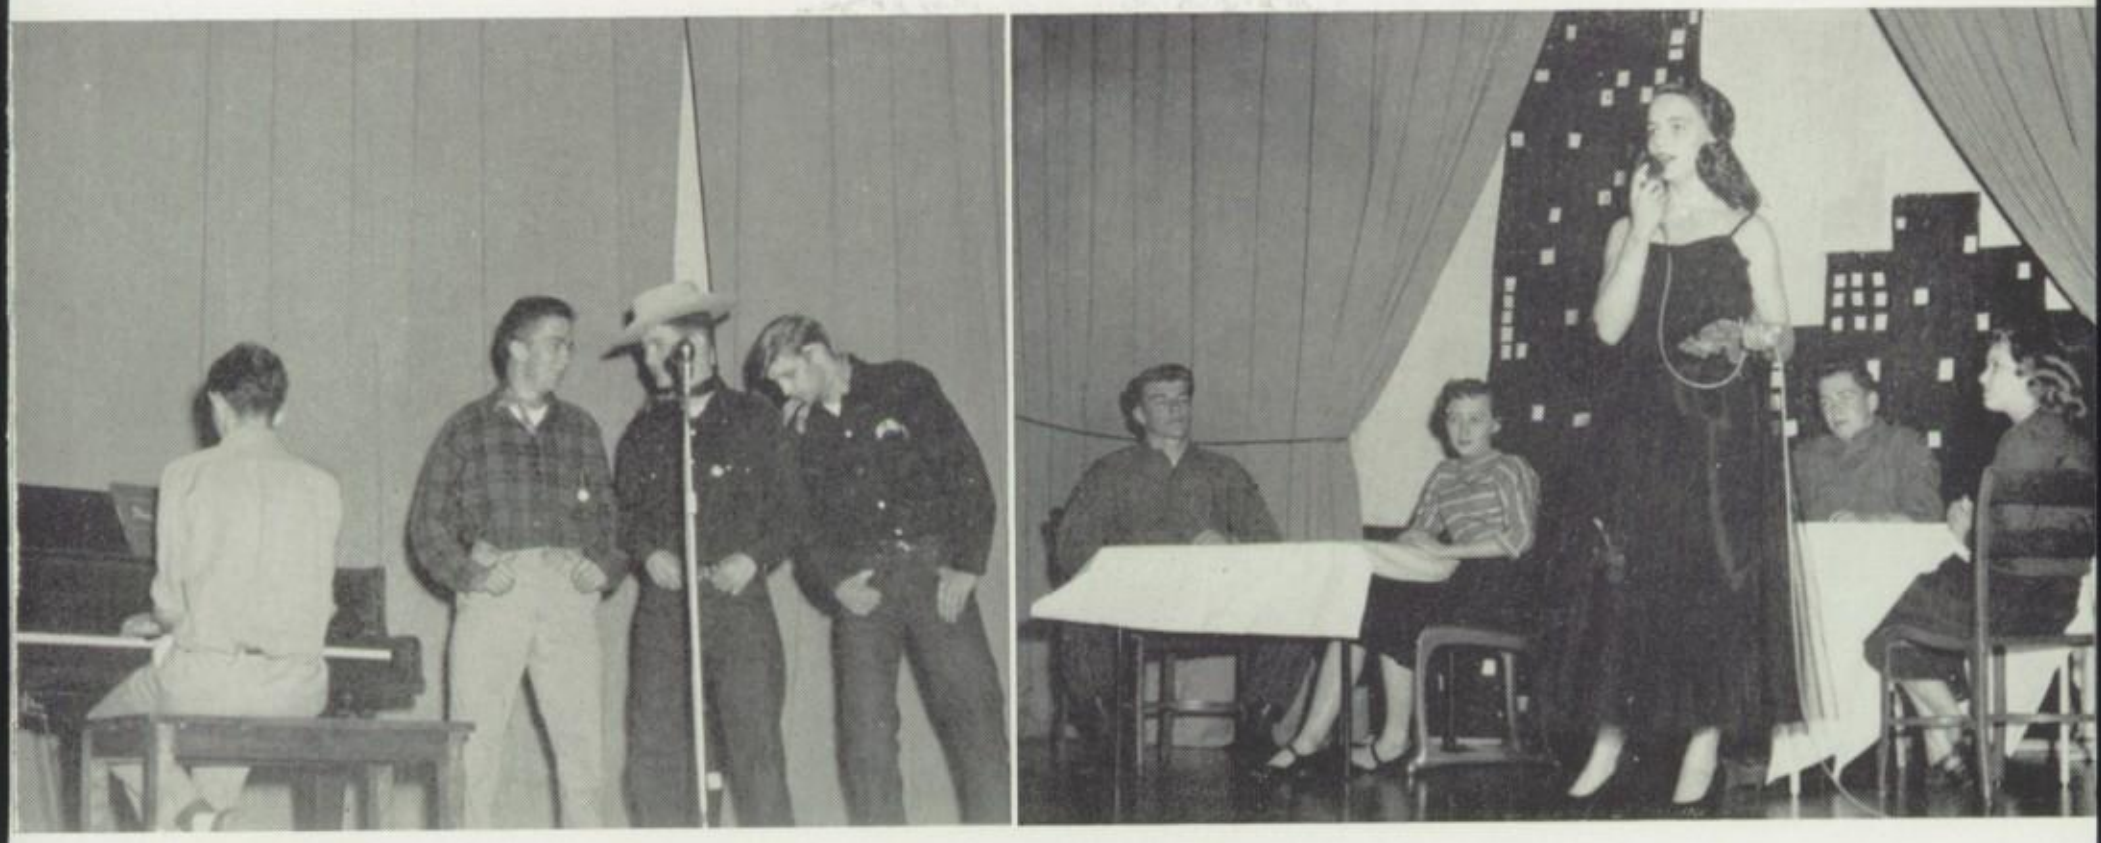
CHS Students Take Part in Assemblies



One of the big events of each school year is the annual Senior assembly put on for the rest of the student body by the members of the graduating class. "The Private Life of a Private or, It Could Happen to You" was the theme of this year's production. Three cowboys do their bit in the scene to the left. Accompanied by Joe Riley, Del Peterson, Bill Cruse and Richard Morris sing "Ragtime Cowboy Joe". The other scene is a night club in which Dorothy Skinner entertains with "That Old Black Magic". Looking on from the background are Frank Boyd, Barbara Cambridge, Ray Casey, Edwina Miller.

Sportsmanship - - A Major Product Of the Adventure

Proof that sportsmanship is a tangible thing that can be measured is found in the winning of the Sportsmanship Trophy in basketball for the third time by the residents of Tigerville.

This year's Varsity football team, under the direction of Coach George Rowswell, met a string of defeats. A lack of experience throughout the team was the main factor in the long string of losses. Experience gained this year should go a long way for the boys next season. Regardless of their losses, however, the team never stopped trying nor did the student body lose faith in their gridiron color bearers.

Despite the fact that their team came out on the short end of most of its scores, Tigerites were not too unhappy over the basketball season since at its end was waiting the highly coveted Sportsmanship Trophy. The year marked the advent of a new coach in this sport also, Coach Bob Elliott coming to Centralia from Washington State College. Most of the team's trouble stemmed from a lack of height, a factor that was plentiful on other league teams. Jerrel Gilligan was not only high point man of the season with 112 tallies, but also won a berth on the All-Star team of the league. Gary Ely, who placed on the second All-Star string, scored 109 points for the Tigers.

Trackmen Look into

Tiger thinclads have made a good showing this year and stand an excellent chance of sending three or four contestants to the state track meet in Pullman on May 25 and 26. Shot-put, discus, high jump, pole vault and possibly low hurdles will be the fields in which the Bengals will vie for honors. An excellent track season in 1952 is seen in view of the fact that very few boys will be lost through graduation this year.

Promising Season

Junior high tracksters will be bringing experience as well as a lot of ability when they report for varsity duty next spring. Up until the end of April the yearlings had participated in four meets and had won two of them. John Glanville has been showing plenty of speed in the 100 and 180-yard dashes and the relays. Jerry Ainsworth has been heaving the shot well, and Mike Gilligan is a handy boy in the pole vault.

Tiger Diamondmen

Coach Holly Gee's 1951 varsity baseball team began the season very favorably by winning almost all of the pre-league games. Out of eight games played up to April 26, only three were lost. With only five returning lettermen to set the pace, the inexperienced players have made an excellent rating.

Swing into Action

Freshmen on the Junior High baseball teams are displaying a pretty good brand of ball. Although the team had played two games up to April 26, it had made a fairly good showing. Chances are good that several of these boys will be working with the varsity squad next year.

Junior Team. Pictured at the left are the boys who will some day carry the Black and Orange to victory in baseball as members of the varsity squad. Row 1—Billy Boggs, Les Altman, Gene Stidham. Row 2—Verle Robinson, Richard Davis, Clyde Paulson, John Pennington. Row 3—Jack Challender, Gene Gideon, Gary Brines.

Coach Roland Dickie's young football and basketball players in the Junior High groups didn't have much more success than their varsity brothers, but they did display the same spirit of determination and high morale. The freshmen from these teams will be welcome additions to the Kitten and varsity squads next year.

Minor sports takes in golf and, this year for the first time, boys' tennis. The golf team has won the northern division championship under Coach Leo Milanowski. Boys' tennis is not competing with other schools this year, using, instead, a tennis ladder of their own for competition.

Build for Varsity

The ambition of every girl participating in sports is to earn a coveted "C" sweater. A girl must have one hundred points to be entitled to a "C", and she may earn these points by taking part in after-school activities. Among these special activities are tennis, which has had a team for three consecutive years; tumbling, composed of 18 members who performed during the half time at the Olympia basketball game; basketball and badminton.

The Adventure Goes On

Four years of learning and fun — appropriately balanced — begun on a timorous note — ended on one loud enough to bolster self-confidence, as we face even greater adventures in the years ahead.

Representing the graduates who have already passed through these doors and into the biggest adventure of all, as well as those thousands who will follow after them, Leath Andrews and Lorraine Compton stand on the threshhold of CHS anticipating that wonderful evening when their diplomas of graduation are placed in their hands and they, too, step out to join that throng.
